Get to know the festival of Onso with family

Description: Visit the village of La Mata during the Onso festival, a fun tradition to celebrate the end of winter and the beginning of spring.

This fun festival will begin with the arrival of the minstrel who will explain what it is all about. With the arrival of spring, the hunters of the village hunt the Onso (represented by a person in disguise) in the forest and take it to the village tied up, where the animal tries to escape and stain the people with its greasy hands. Be careful not to get caught by the Onso!

Once the Onso is captive, the villagers take their cellars out to the streets so that the whole village can celebrate.

In addition, you can visit the palace houses or the town hall, which housed the old prison and the wool market, among others. Of course, it has been a building with multiple uses and, therefore, with a lot of history!

Notes: Free and open to the public.

Directions:

- Held in the municipality of La Mata

Availability: April

Duration: Full day

Discover the Fauna of “La Parreta” through tracking

Description: Walk along the paths and through the woods in the area of La Parreta in Vilafranca, following the tracks of the local fauna to have the opportunity to observe some of the animals.

The route lasts 3 to 4 hours, through which you will be introduced to the fauna and vegetation characteristic of the area. Although you will not always be able to see the animals, it is very likely that if you look closely you will see mountain goats or roe deer. In addition, you will be taught about them thanks to the tracking techniques you will learn. You will also visit a fantastic bird observatory where you will be able to see birds such as vultures or eagles and thus complete a full day with birdwatching.

Family visit to the aromatic plant fields

Description: Learn with your family along this incredible route of aromatic plants. You will be able to enjoy the intense smell of the flowers and plants of the region, as well as learn about their uses and history.

You will walk through spectacular landscapes, smelling the scent of lavender and learning about the production of natural essences, a tradition that goes back centuries in the region. The production of essences in Els Ports was carried out as a way of supplementing the family economy. Under an old Arab bridge, with cauldrons and fire, the inhabitants of La Todolella worked with plants to obtain their essence.

You will discover different crops, learn about their current production, and also visit the current distillery in Cinctorres where different natural essences are obtained from the most traditional plants of Els Ports. You can also enjoy a lunch of traditional products in a farmhouse. Are you going to miss this?
